

Out and about

With the closing of 2012 just behind us, Boating World hosted a classy year-end function for their suppliers. Held at the prestigious Water Club in Granger Bay, the venue was on the same premises as their Cape Town office and made for a brilliant back drop with Table Mountain that paled into insignificance with the collection of Fairlines and Rivieras found in the Marina.

Boating legend Derrick Levy took the lead in a short speech thanking all that were able to attend and raised a glass to what 2013 may hold for everyone. A welcomed relaxing event to end off a crazy year, Boating World would like to extend their thanks to all their clients and suppliers for the support in 2012 and wish you every success in the year ahead.
